Trailer park millionaires

Some of the richest people in the US, including billionaires Warren Buffett and Sam Zell, have made millions from trailer parks at the expense of the country's poorest people. Seeing their success, ordinary people from across the country are now trying to follow in their footsteps and become trailer park millionaires. The Guardian went to Orlando to learn the tricks of the trade from Frank Rolfe, the self-appointed dean of Mobile Home University, as he led would-be investors around a trailer park for sex offenders. ### Palm Springs revamps trailer park with mid-century tiny homes

Built in the 1940s, the Palm Canyon Mobile Club was showing its age when the owners approached realtor Paul Kaplan about helping to sell new homes in the park. Kaplan suggested a fresh start: investing in tiny homes instead of traditional mobile homes. Rather than partnering with a prefab designer or tiny home architect, they chose to work with a traditional mobile home manufacturer because of the scale of the project (100 homes). Working with manufactured home builder Silvercrest, they pushed for a modern, Midcentury-inspired design more fitting of Palm Springs and avoiding some of the hallmark details of conventional mobile homes like ceiling moldings and six-panel doors. "There's also a stigma against mobile home parks," explains Kaplan. "You know the whole trailer trash kind of thing, and I think people are re-looking at it and seeing it really provides a nice sense of community." The Palm Canyon Mobile Club has a renovated pool and clubhouse with workout room and community kitchen. The houses start at $115,000 for the 600 square foot model, with a $650 monthly rental fee for the site. ### Vacancy Decontrol for Oceanside Mobile Home Parks

Owning a mobile home is one of the most affordable kinds of home ownership left, but the catch is that your house is on land owned by someone else. KPBS reporter Alison St John says rent control gives mobile home owners some security, but park owners are fighting to overturn it. The latest example is in Oceanside, where Proposition E on the June ballot would phase out rent control for the residents of the city's 17 parks.

Long & short stays in classic mobile homes at Oregon RV park

Going back to the 30s-40s, "mobile homes" began to excel when some small companies combined attention to detail with modern materials to fit the demand for recreation after WWII. A "vintage trailer" park in Oregon has restored some of these all-time classics. The Vintages Trailer Resort is technically a street of classic mobile homes for overnight rental inside a longer-term RV park. Here you find not only Airstreams, but a 1947 Spartan Manor, a 1951 M-System Special Deluxe, a 1965 Boles Aero, a 1953 Vagabond M31, a 1958 Ideal, a 1958 Oasis and a 1965 Avion. Here you can test drive a vintage caravan for a night or two. From convertible table beds to all-in-one toilet/showers, the tiny amenities of classic campers set a lifestyle, but we found the RV neighborhood itself - the bikeable streets and open-door community - is worth trying on for size. the-vintages.com Original story: faircompanies.com/videos/vintage-trailer-resort-as-timeless-unplugged-or-getaway/
