The living area has a table surrounded by a U-shaped couch with storage below the cushions and more behind the frame. A significant portion of this tiny home is the grand bathroom containing a full-size washer and dryer, a C-head composting toilet, and a glass shower next to the double-height vanity. The upstairs opening area is meant for relaxation and separation from the main house. There are musical instruments, books, beanbags, and plants to flatter the energy of the spacious room. When you gaze towards the loft, you'll notice the eye-catching beam that accents the centerline of the ceiling. Janae and Blaine not only live tiny, but they also design tiny for others!
