Choosing To Be A Stay At Home Mom || Mayim Bialik

Hey, it's Mayim, and I was a stay-at-home mom with a PhD. Yep, that's right! I chose to stay home with my kids when they were young, which I know is a privilege I was able to make. But I wanted to talk about why and how I was able to do so, and why I loved it so much. What are your thoughts? Let me know in the comments! Why I didn't have 11 kids: youtube.com/watch?v=J94-bfa6dIM Stuff I like: amazon.com/shop/influencer-d183dd23 --- You may know me as Amy Farrah Fowler from The Big Bang Theory, or from Blossom, but hopefully, these videos allow you to get to know me better as Mayim, too! Subscribe to my channel for video updates. I upload new videos every Thursday! What next? I'm trained as a neuroscientist, I'm a passionate activist, an observant Jew, a perfectly imperfect mother, and I'm a complicated human being like many of you. ### Why have we stigmatized and marginalised the stay-at-home mom | Ben Young | TEDxOxbridge

Using stay-at-home moms as a case study, Ben Young tackles the polarization and prejudices rampant in discussions of gender in the workplace and in society at large. Ben Young graduated with University Honors from Brigham Young University with a BA in Economics, and a minor in Business Management. After graduation, he worked in the insurance and non-profit arenas, specializing in data analytics and visualization. Outside of work, Ben is an avid baseball fan and an a cappella nerd. He also works as a freelance BI consultant, advising businesses on Tableau implementations and analytics best practices, as well as conducting webinar trainings. He and his wife Aubrey both currently study at Oxford University when not playing with their two daughters, Joan and Ruth. This talk was given at a TEDx event using the TED conference format but independently organized by a local community. Learn more at ted.com/tedx

How Stay at Home Mom's Can Re-Enter the Workforce

Here are my strategies for stay at home women who have been out of the workplace and raising kids to re-enter the workforce. After raising kids for many years, stay at home moms might feel they don't have much to offer an employer, but that could not be further from the truth. Women have far more skills and abilities they think and in this video I will help you to re-discover yourself. Learn how former stay at home moms can re-enter the workforce from hiring expert, Don Georgevich of: #reenterworkforce #womenreenterworkforce In this video, I will teach you why the interviewer is asking the question, why most people get it wrong and what you should say.

 How do stay at home moms reenter the workforce after raising children for 25 years? You raised your children, you had a great time doing it and are now you're looking to reenter the workforce again. For starters, there is nothing wrong with that and employers are not going to hold your absence from a job against you. You might feel that you have nothing to offer an employer because you don't have recent work experience. That might be true if you were a brain surgeon 25 years ago and now you want to get back into that field. You're probably going to run into a little resistance. But for most moms, you have a lot of experience and much more than you realize. Expertise aside, you have many other qualities that you've nurtured over time, like dependability, discipline, work ethic, reliability – I could go on and on here... and those are often more valuable than experience alone.
