How Much Does It Cost To Add a Bathroom To Your House in Minneapolis

How much does it cost to add a bathroom to your Minneapolis home? I get that question a lot. Minneapolis homes with 2 bathrooms are about $15,000 to $25,000 more expensive than one bathroom homes. If you know how to do it right you can add a bathroom for around $5000-$8000. So the return on your money is there. The biggest factor is going to be the layout, location and functionality of the bathroom. Minneapolis homes have limited space and you want to be about to put a bathroom in that will be easy and enjoyable to use. I go through over 200 houses a month and we have sold over 160 houses since January 2014. So many times have I gone through houses that have second bathroom that are build poorly. So before you start your bathroom project maybe hire a architect to come in and give you their opinion on how much to design the bathroom. Or read a few books about bathrooms, look at pictures online of your favorite ones. Once you have the best layout then you can start building it.
