The Most Popular Cities For Millennial Homebuyers According To LendingTree

The most popular cities for Millennial homebuyers will surprise you. LendingTree recently looked at this largest group of homebuyers in the country. The deep dive analyzed mortgage purchase requests on the LendingTree TREE platform across the country's 50 largest metros. Key findings from the report include the most popular cities, the least popular cities, and where the youngest Millennial buyers move to. LendingTree's Chief Economist and Vice President Tendayi Kapfudz looks at the report's results. "We found the top cities were attractive to those older millennials with high-paying jobs in the tech industry," explains Kapfudz. Two of the most popular cities San Jose and Boston are among the country's most expensive to buy a home. It's no surprise Millennials are the majority of buyers in those cities thanks to tech-based economies and high-paying jobs. Millennials in San Jose which ranked number one had the highest down payment amounts at $158,040. Those borrowers had the highest average requested loan amount of $704,318. The current home value in the San Jose metro is $1,275,627. Moving East to Boston a long-time tech hub for Millennials, many of whom went to school in the Boston area and stayed. At number two the typical home in Boston is currently above $1 million. "Tech companies attract younger and wealthier workers that can afford these expensive cities," Kapfudz observes. Denver which came in at number three on the most popular metros rankings is a far more affordable market for Millennials. LendingTree's borrower stats confirm this. The average loan requested from Millennial Denver homebuyers was $354,433. Denver metro's average home value is $474,618. Warm weather doesn't attract Millennials to buy in Las Vegas, Tampa, or Phoenix. LendingTree ranks those metros as the least popular cities for homebuyers. Too bad since home values there are certainly more affordable than the most popular metros. Look at Las Vegas where typical home values are right at $224,259. Tampa prices are a bit higher at $250,431. Phoenix has the highest values of the three metros at $321,359. Kapfudz has a different opinion on the urban flight to the suburbs than the headlines of the summer and spring. "With Millennials as the largest home buying segment, our mid-December data isn't showing people fleeing those urban cores." Following Millennial buying trends is a good look into the country's current real estate market. All data is taken from the source: forbes.com Article Link:

Inventory Levels are at Record Lows! Check out this Video and Learn more about the Market

Did you know that a LendingTree study states that 87% of home sellers were concerned, their homes won't sell because of this pandemic, resulting in an economic recession? This could not be more untrue right now. Lennaea] We are Gaurav and Lennaea with Get Sood, and we are your digital community market leaders. Right now is an amazing time to sell your home, why? Because inventory levels here in Auburn, Washington, Lake Tapps, Washington and surrounding areas, are at record lows. In fact, right now the inventory is lower than it was in January, which is traditionally low. But here locally, we are seeing one of the lowest inventory months in a while. What's so interesting about this is that the buyers are in full demand. Yes, bidding wars are still happening. They are out in full force making offers. In fact, Zillow reported the newly pending sales are up 18.8% month over month, but total listings are down 20.7%. So they're just is not inventory in the market as for the buyers high demand. So why are buyers in a buying frenzy? Because interest rates are low, they can afford more home right now and put less money down and their payments will be less because of the interest rates are lower. In many cases, it is actually more affordable to own a home than it is to rent one. Especially if you take into consideration the tax saving advantages from owning a home. So what does all this mean? Well, according to all of the experts, if you take a look at the graph right here, with the exception of one, five of the experts are anticipating an increase in home prices through 2022. And three out of the five are anticipating over 3% appreciation through the end of the year. This is summed up nicely by Zelman and Associates, June 25th Broker Report which states and I quote, "The severity of inventory tightness should remain a relative benefit to the home prices. But it is also a risk factor to the degree of rebound in the unit sales going forward." So inventory is going to have a massive factor, the lack of supplies helping prices go up. So it is not just a good time to sell, is an amazing time to sell. We have helped so many sellers recently receive record breaking prices on their homes, in very short windows of time. We can give you so much more information and details, if you can meet and don't worry, we can meet virtually as well. Our goal is to provide excellent information so you can make a good decision, for you and your family when the time is right. Feel free to reach out to me or Lennaea with GetSood We are always here to help. now is a great time to sell in Auburn, Lake Tapps & surrounding areas! Why?
